

Divine ModestTee Simply Ideal

By Maralyn D. Hill

Divine ModestTee simply ideal for me. I field many inquiries for various products. One recently came in that I passed on to our fashion editor. However, when Divine ModestTee crossed my screen, I was intrigued. No longer in the “sweet young woman” category, nor rail thin, these suits looked flattering and perfect.

Most women, no matter their age, want to look stylish and comfortable. As Johnny Mercer said, “Accentuate the positive, eliminate the negative, and don’t mess with mister in between.” This swimwear has over fifty-five mix and match designs. Now, the test was to determine if they were manufactured as well as they looked.

I sent my height, age, weight, coloring, and measurements and a note saying, “Please send what you think will be the most flattering, so I can test it out.”

The verdict is in; I love my new bathing suit. It has hit the pool, hot tub, and washing machine. It is made extremely well. The company did send one size larger than I would have ordered, but it is perfect. There are no pulled seams or loose stitches. I pushed, pulled, stretched, crushed, and crumbled. The navy blue is as vibrant as ever and the bathing suit looks brand new minus the tags.

I have three pieces similar to that shown above, first the bandeau halter-top with ruffles around the top of the bust line. This is not a style I would have picked, but one that is very flattering. There is extra folds in the material that provide a slimming profile. It also has a low cut pair of pants so it looks like a one piece, or a skirt I can slip over to provide a different look.

All in all, I am sold on the product. Enough so, that I may purchase another one. Living in Arizona and traveling as much as we do, I am always in need of good swimsuits and I love these styles. They indeed accentuate the positive.
